SUMMARY

I am passionate about wildlife conservation and tourism activities, aiming to reduce conflicts between humans and animals as human populations expand into wildlife habitats. Crop raiding by elephants and conflicts with predators like monkeys, lions, and leopards pose challenges for communities and conservationists. My interest in entrepreneurship empowers me to innovate at the intersection of tourism and wildlife conservation. Leveraging my skills and dedication, I promote sustainable practices, creating ventures that safeguard biodiversity while fostering economic growth demonstrating the entrepreneurial spirit's capacity for social and environmental impact.
